Congress Sets Session Ending Try Saturday

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hopes for winding up the 89th Congress by tonight faded a bit further when senators agreed to meet at 10 a.m. EDT Saturday.

The unanimous consent on a Saturday meeting time did not make another session mandatory, but Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana told newsmen he had only slight hope of completing all business by tonight.

Mansfield convened the Senate three hours early today, won agreement on the time, and then recessed the session for lack of any immediate business to handle.

He did not say what possible stumbling blocks lay ahead. But one major obstacle — a dispute over expanded trade with Communist nations of Eastern Europe — could delay final adjournment until Saturday.

President Johnson is pushing for expanded trade with Soviet bloc nations as part of a move to ease East-West tensions. But in passing a $3-billion supplemental money bill Tuesday — the last appropriations measure of the session — the House tacked on a ban on use of Export-Import Bank funds to extend credit to Communist countries.

The Senate, when it cleared the measure Thursday, knocked out the ban and gave the President discretionary power to authorize credit if he feels it is in the national interest.

House-Senate conferees meet today in an attempt to settle the question.

Advance indications were that the Senate position would prevail. But there was some fear that if this was the case, the House might balk at approving the compromise version of the legislation and possibly force a Saturday session.

Both House and Senate leaders were striving to avoid this, saying a quorum might not be available Saturday. The Senate in both branches have been dividing all week as the Nov. 8 election date nears.

On its last vote Thursday night, the House got down to the bare minimum of 217 vote members required for a quorum and its leaders had to quit without handling some of the scheduled items.

Car Output Hits Six Months High

DETROIT (AP) — U.S. auto production this week hit a six months high as customer demand for 1967 cars remained high.

The week's output was estimated at 210,345 cars, compared with 197,539 last week and 210,000 in the like week a year ago. It was the largest car production since the 210,000 cars of April 18-23 this year.

Automotive News, a trade publication, said the industry's calendar year production had climbed to 6,781,223 cars compared with 7,345,922 at this point a year ago.

Williams Calling Griffin Chicken

By The Associated Press

G. Mennen Williams has charged Sen. Robert P. Griffin with "chickening out" on a debate set for tonight in Lansing.

Williams, the Democratic senatorial candidate, made the remark Thursday in a speech before Macomb County Democrats at Mount Clemens.

Griffin, reportedly campaigning in Alpena, Oscoda and East Tawas today, was not immediately available for comment. Williams, who bagged a pheasant on a hunting trip near Mount Clemens Thursday, said, "Either my opponent felt I was too tough on him in our debate last (Wednesday) night or he heard about the dead head I had on that bird today."

Williams and Griffin had a debate in Oak Park Wednesday night.

Williams campaigned in Mount Pleasant and Lansing today. Griffin spoke to a Catholic seminar on human relations in Harper Woods Thursday night, saying: "Human relations call for interracial justice and equality in the field of employment as well as in moral and civic matters."

He called for federal aid to expand existing job retraining programs.

"We must match the Negro with available jobs," Griffin said. "Problems which amount to a massive dose serve only to delay solutions in the slums."

"There can be no better start than providing them with the tools so that they can dig their way out of misery, and gain decent jobs for a better living," he added.

In the gubernatorial race, Democrat Zoltan Ferency called for legalized bingo while Republican Gov. George Romney made it clear he would not apologize for saying Ferency had been chastized in 1964 for unfair campaign practices.

Ferency had demanded the apology last week.

Ferency said legalized bingo is no more immoral than the state's parimutuel betting system at race tracks.

"You can't be a little bit immoral any more than you can be a little bit pregnant," he said.

Romney said at a Dearborn press conference that Ferency's demand for an apology contained charges which were as slanderous as those contained in the 1964 leaflet.

Romney had alleged that Ferency, then State Democratic Chairman, was responsible for a leaflet issued on the eve of the 1964 election charging: "Romney is Against Equal Housing Rights."

The Fair Campaign Practices Commission denounced the leaflet as "an unfair distortion" and notified Ferency of its findings. Last week, Ferency said the leaflet was the work of aides to Neil Staebler, who lost the 1964 gubernatorial election to Romney.

State Money Ahead From Auction Sale

LANSING (AP) — The hard-driving voice of professional auctioneers replaced the sometimes eloquent tones of legislators in the House chamber Thursday—and the state came out money ahead as a result.

The State Treasury Department tried something new, auctioning off at public sale jewelry, coins, stamps and other goods left in estates that had no apparent heirs.

In the past, such items were sold by sealed bid to dealers; this time anyone could bid—and they did.

"And we came out way ahead," said Deputy State Treasurer Lloyd Anderson. "I said before the auctioneers started I would be pleased if we took in $20,000. They told me it would come to $35,000. I doubt that it was that high, but it was much above my estimate."

Because the auction ran more than eight hours straight and another hour was consumed in settling the sales, Anderson did not keep his staff around to total up the day's intake.

"But many of these dealers just quit bidding; the nonprofessionals were pushing the prices up too high for them," he said.

"The state did an excellent job of getting a lot of money," said W. W. Luitze, an antique and coin dealer from Benton Harbor. "I saw $20 gold pieces you can buy for $48 each, uncirculated, go for $61 and $73 each here today."

The state holds on to such property for seven years. If it is not claimed within that time, it is sold and the funds are turned over to the general fund treasury. An heir can always be reimbursed by the state if he can prove his claim.

The largest single purchases were made by Charles T. Walker of Detroit, who bought the entire stamp collection for $1,000. The 35 lots had brought less than $500 when bid upon individually.

Walker said the stamps were "for my private collection."

He also bid $1,333 for a collection of gold coins.

Reds Lay Claim To Bag Of Five Yank Aircraft

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Viet Cong terrorists exploded a homemade mine in the teeming market place of a district capital today and killed or wounded 57 Vietnamese soldiers and civilians.

The attack came on an otherwise quiet day on the war front with only small patrol skirmishes reported as President Chung Hee Park of South Korea arrived in Viet Nam for a one-day visit to Korea's 45,000-man force here.

Park stopped off for seven hours and then continued on his way to Manila to attend the seven-nation summit conference on Viet Nam opening Monday.

South Viet Nam's Premier Nguyen Cao Ky, having quashed the storm within his own cabinet, took time off to fly to Da Nang to welcome the visiting Korean president.

In the air war over North Viet Nam, U.S. strike pilots flew 80 missions Thursday and an American spokesman said the forces cost two U.S. planes. The North Vietnamese claimed five planes were shot down Thursday and a number of pilots were captured.

U.S. spokesmen ignored this claim, but said the pilots of the U.S. planes were missing. The planes were both Navy A4 Skyhawks from U.S. 7th Fleet carriers in the Gulf of Tonkin.

Solons Planning Public Hearings

LANSING (AP) — Legislative committees on highways and water pollution control have scheduled public hearings within the next two weeks.

The Senate Highway Committee will hold a special meeting next Monday at the Redford Township Town Hall near Detroit to hear protests and explanations about delays in plans to widen Plymouth Road.

A special interim committee will conduct a public hearing Nov. 2 in the Flint City Commission chambers on criteria for allocating federal funds for water pollution control.

The hearing, aimed at determining whether new legislation is needed in this area, is the result of a suit filed by Genesee County charging the State Water Resources Commission with discrimination in allocating the funds.

Slag Heap Slips, Traps Children In Wales School

ABERFAN, Wales (AP) — A giant coal slag-heap swept down a mountain into this Welsh mining village today, burying a school filled with children and also a row of houses.

The bodies of 22 persons—18 children and four adults—were recovered.

Police estimated 100 school children and about 30 adults were missing. But some were believed to have escaped in the confusion.

Four hours after the avalanche buried the school for youngsters aged 7 to 11 and a row of nearby houses, a civil defense worker said:

"We don't know how many are missing, but there are many."

The British Press Association reported 125 children and four adults missing.

A thousand miners from nearby pits tore into the rubble with their bare hands to rescue the buried children.

The heap of coal slag, loosened by rain, moved down the mountainside "like a glacier," one civil defense worker said.

It first struck a kindergarten and badly damaged a secondary school next door in this village in Glamorgan.

Six houses in a row near the school were demolished. Among the missing is a family of four living in one of the houses.

The avalanche struck just after the children had entered class rooms after a play period. The slag heap, loosened by recent rains, also slid into a row of six houses in this South Wales mining village. There were fears some persons might be buried in the houses.

A fire brigade spokesman said 200 children were believed in the school at the time.

A National Coal Board spokesman said he understood some had been brought out safely.

The slag heap — called a coal tip in Britain — is a small mountain of pit waste standing alongside the pit superstructure. It has long been a trademark of British coal fields, but the National Coal Board has been waging a campaign to level them.

O'Brien Claims A 'Conspiracy'

LANSING (AP)—Three girls who have testified state Sen. Bernard F. O'Brien Jr. accented them are expected to return to the witness stand today and deny they are part of a "conspiracy" against the senator.

O'Brien, accused in Justice Court of asking 22-year-old Marion Lukens to pose for pornographic pictures and engage in sexual intercourse, has said he feels the charges are the result of a conspiracy by "the insurance lobby."

The 31-year-old Detroit Democrat testified Wednesday he believed Miss Lukens and three of the five other girls who have identified him as their accuser are part of the so-called conspiracy or "are being used as pawns."

A fifth girl is "possibly" a conspirator, he said, and the sixth "could have made a terrible mistake" when she identified him from the witness chair.

Miss Lukens, Beth Shapiro and Linda Outcalt, all Michigan State University coeds, were recalled to the stand Thursday. Each denied conspiring against O'Brien.

Testifying Thursday, MSU coed Yvonne Jenkins said investigator Peter Bill, who is working for O'Brien, told her of plans to prosecute the six girls for perjury if O'Brien is acquitted.

Miss Jenkins, who said she is an acquaintance of Miss Shapiro, testified Bill told her that "if a girl changed her statements, they wouldn't press charges."

Boos Mix With Cheers; Paint Smeared On Car

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP) — Australia's second largest city today gave President Johnson one of the most tumultuously enthusiastic receptions of his career. It also included a thorough smearing of red and green paint across his bubbletop limousine and boos and jeers from a two-block gantlet of youths opposing the war in Viet Nam.

The closed car protected the President and Mrs. Johnson from the paint, and they stepped from the car at Government House smiling and waving as if nothing had happened.

"In the perspective of two million people or so," said the First Lady, "It was just like a grain of sand."

One report said the paint — in two plastic balloons — was thrown by two youngsters about 14 years old. Another said the thrower was a young man whom police arrested.

The President flew to Melbourne from Canberra for four hours of meeting the people after taking a good-natured ribbing from an Australian politician and issuing a Viet Nam solidarity statement with Prime Minister Harold Holt.

To Mahatma Effect

Johnson and Holt said they agreed that North Viet Nam no longer can win a military victory but that America and its allies must "firmly maintain the present military effort until a satisfactory settlement could be negotiated."

"Fighting could only end when it was clear that the great issues at stake had been secured," the statement declared.

"There is a widening community of people who feel responsible for what is happening in Viet Nam," the President said in a television speech just before he left Canberra. For that reason, he continued, "I believe there is light at the end of what has been a long and lonely tunnel."

Biggest Welcome Ever

Despite Mrs. Johnson's "two million" remark, Melbourne police estimated the turnout for the President at over a million who jammed the sidewalks for many blocks, cheering and waving American flags under a rain of ticker-tape from the city's tall buildings.

The President as usual stopped his car repeatedly during the 11-mile drive to Government House and stood in the open doorway, kissing babies, waving vigorously, shaking hundreds of hands and accepting flowers and other tokens — including a football — from wellwishers.

On his way to Government House, the President stopped for 40 minutes to visit with Dame Mabel Brookes, who befriended him during his wartime stay in Australia, and her 80-year-old husband, Sir Norman Brookes, former world's tennis champion.

Paint Thrown

The Johnsons had just left the Brookes home when the paint throwing occurred.

Bill D. Moyers, White House press secretary, said two youngsters about 14 threw two plastic balloons filled with paint at the car. A newsman riding with a truckload of photographers ahead of the limousine said the two containers were thrown by a young man who dashed at the car, hurled his missiles, ran in front of the car and either tripped or threw himself on the pavement. The newsman said police hauled him away.

The windshield of Johnson's car was hit squarely by the green paint, and the car was smeared from one end to the other. Two Secret Service men on the back bumper were bathed in it, and a number of other security men in an open car behind were hit.

Fifth Rapist Killing Stirs New Fears In Terrified Cincinnati

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — The strangulation slaying of an 81-year-old widow, presumably the fifth victim of a crazed killer, has touched off a new wave of fear in an already terrified Cincinnati.

The latest victim, Rose Winstel, was raped and strangled Thursday night in a three-room apartment in which she lived alone.

The attack took place about two miles from the scene of three of four previous rape-strangulation murders, the first of which occurred last December.

"It's an exact copy of the others," said Detective Chief Jacob Schott.

"She looked exactly like the others," another veteran detective said. "There's no doubt about it."

Police said the aspects of the five slayings were the same. Each victim was beaten severely on the head and face with a blunt object, raped and strangled with whatever was at hand.

The slayings have touched off fear among Cincinnati women. The fear has been fed with the unsolved stabbing murders of a young suburban couple and their daughter Sept. 25.

Police, who have been on unlimited overtime duty since Oct. 11 when Alton Hochhauser, 31, was raped and strangled, are attempting to add more help to an already beefed-up force to find the killer.

NMU Planning U.P. Museum

MARQUETTE — An Upper Peninsula museum will be constructed at Northern Michigan University in the near future.

Dr. Edgar L. Harden, NMU president, addressing a joint meeting of Marquette service clubs on the NMU campus Wednesday night, said "a museum to house the artifacts of the Upper Peninsula which will preserve the heritage of this historically rich area" will be included in the university's future facilities.

In his overall analysis of the future of the University, Harden said other future facilities which "must be planned" included an interdenominational chapel, a new laboratory school and education building, a new school of business building, and more apartments and residence halls.

The NMU president also stated that the state legislature has authorized, or given approval to a new $6,000,000 men's physical education building, a new administration building, a $3,000,000 basic instructional center, and the university's third residence hall quadrangle, a $6,500,000 project.

Christmas Comes Nov. 1!

Philatelists Eye Munising

Deputy Postmaster General Frederick C. Belen will speak at first day ceremonies as the Christmas postage stamp is issued Nov. 1, at Christmas, near Munising.

Also participating in the program will be Congressman Raymond F. Clevenger. The Post Office Department recently granted the hamlet a "Christmas" postal cancellation.

The 5-cent Christmas stamp reproduces a portion of a painting by Hans Memling, 15th century Flemish artist, titled "Madonna and Child with Angels."

This is the fifth in the series of holiday stamps and the forecast is that it will be another best-seller. An initial print order for 1,200,000,000 stamps has been set.

The stamp was designed from the central portion of Memling's oil, "Madonna and Child with Angels," which hangs in the National Gallery of Art, Washington, D.C., as part of the Mellon collection.

Small Painting
Memling painted the scene on wood about 1480. It is small, measuring only about 18 x 23 inches and is an excellent example of the detail the German-born artist lavished on his work.

"This stamp design, which was unanimously recommended to me by the Citizens' Stamp Advisory Committee, is entirely appropriate to the spirit of Christmas and at the same time will be a miniature reproduction of an outstanding work of art," Postmaster General O'Brien said.

Collectors desiring first day cancellations may send addressed envelopes, together with remittance to cover cost of the stamps to be affixed, to the Officer in Charge, Christmas,

THIS IS THE Christmas postage stamp to be issued for the first time on Nov. 1 at Christmas, Mich., near Munising. (Post Office Department Photo)

Michigan 49862. A close-fitting enclosure of postal card thickness should be placed in each envelope and the flap either turned in or sealed.

Michigan Man
The envelope to the Officer in Charge should be endorsed "First Day Covers 5c Christmas stamp." Orders must not include requests for uncanceled stamps. Requests must be postmarked no later than Nov. 1, 1966.

Clevenger Is Dinner Honoree

IRON MOUNTAIN — Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman will visit Iron Mountain next Wednesday, Oct. 26 to inspect his department's newly-acquired Sylvania Tract and speak at a testimonial dinner for Congressman Raymond F. Clevenger, (D-Sault Ste. Marie.)

Freeman will fly into Iron Mountain from Detroit during the afternoon, stopping off at Alpena to pick up Clevenger. Arriving in the Sylvania Tract area of the Ottawa National Forest about 5:15 p.m., Freeman and Clevenger will spend 30 minutes in an aerial survey of the 18,000 acres acquired by the U.S. Forest Service last September.

"With plans by the U.S. Forest Service for an eventual 2,000 family campground sites within the wildlands of the tract, the economy of the area will be boosted by an estimated $1 million a year from this one source alone," Clevenger said.

Freeman and Clevenger will land at the Iron Mountain airport about 6:15 p.m. and go to the Dickinson Hotel for a press conference.

Master of ceremonies at the testimonial dinner to follow will be Jack L. Gingsass of Iron Mountain, Democratic candidate for state representative in the 109th District. The public is invited and tickets are available at Dickinson County Democratic Headquarters in Iron Mountain.

Frederick Belen is now "second in command" of the U.S. Post Office Department. He is best known for his work in bringing about the ZIP Code-Sectional Center Concept. It enables the Post Office Department to employ sophisticated machines like reader-sorters and other mechanical sorting devices to cope with the deluge of mail which has engulfed the Post Office Department and found it unable to maintain its old standards of service.

Belen's mother was the second woman ever elected to the Michigan Legislature and his sister is a member of the Lansing City Council. He attended Lansing schools and was graduated in 1937 from Michigan State University. He got a law degree in 1942 from George Washington University.

52 Students Pass Hunt Safety Exam

STEPHENSON — A hunter safety program sponsored by the Michigan Department of Conservation, taught by Kern Kerwell and Duane Lord, has been completed at Stephenson High School.

Fifty-nine students in grades eight, nine and ten received four hours of instruction in the program followed by an examination. Fifty-two students passed the exam.

The program of instruction included hunting regulations, analyses of hunting accidents, firearms and ammunition, behavior afield, planning a hunt, and what to do if lost in the woods.

Ruppe Scores Debate 'Duck'

SAULT STE. MARIE—Phil Ruppe, Republican Congressional nominee, campaigning in Sault Ste. Marie criticized his opponent for refusing a Menominee Junior Chamber of Commerce invitation to debate.

"Two years ago," Ruppe said, "Clevenger was crying for debates. Now he ducks at every opportunity. My opponent flooded the 11th District with press releases," Ruppe said, "that we were scheduled to debate before the Michigan Education Association on Oct. 6. At the last minute Clevenger cancelled because there was a bill on the floor of the House of Representatives."

"Last Tuesday," Ruppe continued, "there was vital legislation on the floor of the House of Representatives to cut Export-Import Bank loans to Communist countries supplying our enemy, North Viet Nam. My opponent did not even vote, because he was in Michigan campaigning. It appears that the nation's business keeps him in Washington only when he is scheduled to debate me."

"Last week I accepted a debate invitation from the Menominee Junior Chamber of Commerce for any time during the week of Oct. 24 at my opponent's convenience. Now he tells us that his schedule is full and he can't even spare an hour for Menominee during the entire week."

"I believe the issues of this campaign are vital to Northern Michigan," Ruppe concluded, "and my offer stands to debate my opponent any time, any place, and on any issue he may choose."

Grouse Drops In Through Window, But Doesn't Stay

A ruffed grouse dropped in (through the window) at the Mrs. George E. Mashek residence, 816 Lake Shore Drive, but decided not to stay for dinner Thursday afternoon.

The bird crashed its way through the window and appeared stunned but alive.

C. E. Johnson of 517 Ogden Ave., a neighbor, came to the rescue and carried the grouse outside.

As soon as it was in the open—and perhaps thinking it might be destined for the cooking pot—the bird fluttered from Johnson's hands and escaped, apparently unhurt by its brief encounter with city folks.

Prosecutor Nears End Of Case In Bast Trial

Prosecutor Nicholas P. Chapek neared completion of his case this morning as the trial of Dr. Gilbert H. Bast, Escanaba chiropractor, moved into its third day.

Bast is charged with three counts of statutory rape involving girls now ages 12, 14 and 16. The cases are being tried concurrently, but the jury will be instructed to return separate verdicts on each count.

The trial is expected to continue into next week with defense witnesses called by defense counsel Arthur Neiman.

Chapek put Dr. James Dehlin of Gladstone, Dr. A. G. Dunn, Traverse City, president of the State Board of Chiropractic Examiners and the girls' father on the stand this morning. Their appearances followed cross examination by Neiman of the youngest of the three alleged victims. Neiman reserved cross examination of the girls' father.

Dehlin testified that he examined the three girls in his Gladstone office on April 15, 1966, and that the oldest girl was about 5 to 5½ months pregnant.

Delivers Baby
He also said he delivered a baby to the girl June 23, 1966, in St. Francis Hospital. The baby, he said, was premature and weighed three pounds, one ounce.

Dr. Dehlin said examination of the 14-year-old indicated she was "non virginal" while the 12-year-old girl "could be termed virginal."

He said the baby delivered to the 16-year-old could have been the result of relations on or about Oct. 15, 1965. The 16-year-old testified Thursday that the alleged incidents in Dr. Bast's office took place on or about Aug. 20 and Oct. 15.

Court opened today with the youngest of the three alleged victims on the stand and Neiman almost immediately began cross examination.

Uses Transcript
Working from the transcript of the preliminary hearing on the case, Neiman attacked conflicting testimony by the girl. She said she was confused and Judge Davidson recessed the court for about 10 minutes when the girl began to cry.

Neiman also asked several questions about her visits to the office, apparently laying foundation for defense witnesses to follow.

Near the end of her testimony, both Chapek and Neiman stipulated to admission of transcripts from preliminary hearings.

Neiman began cross examination of the youngest girl this morning after Chapek's examination Thursday afternoon. She was the fourth prosecution witness of the day. They were the three sisters and their mother.

The girls are ages 12, 14 and 16, with the youngest to turn 13 Sunday.

Testimony Similar
All three girls offered similar testimony concerning the circumstances of their alleged rape.

Testifying separately with the other two sisters out of the court, the girls said they all told to undress, put on a white gown and assume a position on a cot in what they termed "the Kiddie Corner" room of the office because of its diagonal wall. The room was designated "Treatment Room B" on a chart of the office prepared for the jury.

The youngest and oldest girls each testified to two separate incidents. The 14-year-old said there was only one occasion.

Cross examination Thursday by Neiman challenged the dates of Aug. 15 and Oct. 20, 1965, testified to by the eldest girl as the time of the alleged rape by focusing attention on the girl's inability to remember details about other visits to the office for treatment. Neiman also probed into the report that none of the girls made an outcry and also did not tell their parents of the alleged incidents until March, 1966, when the oldest was discovered pregnant.

Courtroom Full
Dr. Bast, throughout the prosecution testimony, sat quiet and unemotional with his attorney. During cross examination, he was consulted on several occasions by Neiman.

The girls all testified they had not told their parents because they were "afraid."

Bast, 55, has been a resident of Escanaba since 1957 when he came here from Sault Ste. Marie to establish practice. His office is at 805 Ludington St. and he resides at 1015 1st Ave. S. His wife was again with him in court.

The courtroom was full for the opening afternoon session Thursday at 1:30. The sheriff's office is maintaining a deputy at the door to keep persons under the age of 21 out of the courtroom, as ordered by the judge.

Grand Rapids Quiz In Tainted Meat Indicts 7 More

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Grand Juror Stuart Hoffius indicted seven more persons Thursday in the probe into the processing of tainted meat in Kent and Ottawa counties.

Judge Hoffius indicated more indictments would be issued. Arraigned before Municipal Judge Louis E. Simhauser of Grand Rapids were: Theodore Evers, 58, of Holland, president of Holland Meat Co., also known as Ottawa Sausage Co.; his son, Lyle, 32, vice president of the firm; Roy Cooper, 62, and his wife, Doris, 66, both of Rockford; William Peterman, 33, of Rockford, an employee of the Coopers; Gerhard A. Ritsema, 31, and Edwin L. McIntyre, 24, both of Holland and former employees of a Holland supermarket. The Holland Meat Co. also was named in the indictment.

Named as a co-conspirator but not a defendant was Clarence Pastoor of Jenison, a former employee of Holland Meat Co.

Former Escanaba Resident Dies

John Harold O'Meara, son of a prominent Escanaba family who spent his early years here died Oct. 13 in Kent, Wash., at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Frederick C. Edman.

Mr. O'Meara was employed by Swift and Co. and followed his retirement made his home with his daughter.

Also surviving are a sister, Miss Charlotte O'Meara of Flatbush, N. Y., and a brother, C. Pierce O'Meara of Minneapolis.

Burial was made in Chicago.

Delta Sending 229 Students To Northern

MARQUETTE — With students from 26 states, six foreign countries, and 78 of the state's 83 counties, Northern Michigan University today reported a record enrollment of 6,897 students, a 23.1 per cent increase over last fall.

It is the 11th consecutive year that NMU's enrollment has set a new record. Last year Northern had 5,561 students. Graduate enrollment also jumped, from last year's 481 to 561, an increase of 16 per cent.

The University also enrolled its largest undergraduate classes in NMU history. There are 2,869 freshmen, 1,562 sophomores, 1,074 juniors and 836 seniors.

Of the total number of undergraduate and graduate students, 6,298 students were from Michigan, including 3,963 from the Upper Peninsula and 2,335 from Lower Michigan. Five hundred and seventy-five students are from other states and the District of Columbia, and 24 from foreign countries.

Marquette County leads the state in enrollment with 1,889 students. Other Michigan counties include Wayne with 797 students; Oakland, 531; Dickinson, 379; Iron, 240; Delta, 229; Gogebic, 190; Macomb, 188; Houghton, 184; Menominee, 169; Ontonagon, 148; and Alger, 136.

Erlandsen Opens New Sault Post

SAULT STE. MARIE—Rep. Einar Erlandsen (D-Escanaba) turned over the keys of the Upper Peninsula's newest State Police post here on the former Camp Lucas property to Sgt. William Lanphear, post commander, in a ceremony late Thursday morning.

Also active in the ceremonial was Mayor John Harrington, who presided. Col. Frederick Davids, commissioner of the State Police, and James Hare, secretary of state, whose department operates one of its driver license offices in the building.

Efforts to establish the Sault post were started as far back as 1936 by then Commissioner Oscar Olander. Erlandsen said the Legislature and State Police had finally been able to collaborate effectively in the creation of a post in a former camp building and to staff it without disrupting the other U. P. posts. Posts are at Sault Ste. Marie, St. Ignace, Newberry, Manistique, Gladstone, Stephenson, Iron Mountain, Marquette (headquarters), Munising, L'Anse, Calumet, Iron River and Wakefield.

The legislators and State Police officers were honored at lunch after the ceremony. Erlandsen was to appear to-

New Recreation Center Planned

The interviewing of architects preliminary to hiring one to plan an Escanaba recreation center was agreed upon by the City Council Thursday night, but the Councilmen were far apart on where the proposed building should be located.

The Recreation Board, an advisory committee appointed by the Council, had urged Council to proceed with planning for the structure, and suggested a site at S. 23rd St. and 5th Ave. S. for consideration.

Prior to Thursday night there had been agreement on one site—the watertower location which is owned by the city—said Councilman H. George Nelson.

"Now all of a sudden this blows up in our faces," he said. Councilman Edward J. Cox, who had given the recreation center project a push toward action at a recent meeting, agreed with Nelson that the water tower site was suitable and pointed out that it had been recommended for this purpose by Thompson Dyke, the city's planning consultant.

Variety Of Views
The 5th Ave. S. site, which is not owned by the city, is not centrally located, he added.

Mayor Harold Vanlerberghe indicated that he favored considering other sites and that perhaps the watertower site might be sold at a profit and the proceeds used for the recreation center project.

Councilman George Ruch favored "a community school program" in which the city recreation facilities and school facilities could be jointly used for recreation purposes.

He said he thought there is enough room in the schools for a community school program but what is needed is a swimming pool.

Councilman Cox said he thought the swimming pool should be a separate project. As for the schools participating in a recreation program, they have good financial reasons for not doing it, he said.

Mayor Vanlerberghe said there are five gymnasiums in Escanaba now and he doubted whether another is needed.

To Meet Again
The recreation center discussion brought a senior citizens group into consideration of their needs, and one of the factors was the need for central location of the facility, they said.

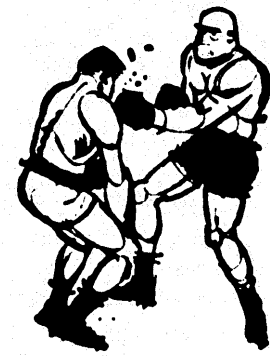

Leo Laviolette, representing the Drop In Center for senior citizens in a building in downtown Escanaba, told of the financial difficulties encountered in operating the Center. Mrs. John Nystrom reported for the group on the sources of contributions in the past.

The Council approved appropriating $950 to pay back rental of 16 months and rental to Jan. 15, 1967, for the Drop In Center used by about 140 senior citizens.

At the next meeting of the Council there is expected to be present members of the Recreation Board and the senior citizens to further discuss the recreation center project.

Milk Prices Are Highest In State History

The price dairy farmers members of the Michigan Milk Producers Association received for the major part of the milk they delivered to market during September equaled the highest price ever received in Michigan.

"Base" price paid to farmers who sell milk in the Detroit area, Flint, Saginaw and Bay City was $5.56 per hundredweight (46½ quarts). In other population centers of the state, prices were slightly lower.

The "base" price also reached $5.56 per hundredweight during February of 1952. At that time, however, Michigan was divided into pricing "zones" in a different way. Totally, therefore, Michigan farmers received more money for their "base" milk this September than at any time in history. It was 89 cents per hundredweight over federally established minimum prices.

Auspicious Partnership

"The next step to open this vast recreational and park areas to the public is the elimination of the tolls on the Mackinac bridge." It was Governor George Romney speaking on the shores of Bad Water Lake in Dickinson County in a ceremony by which the states of Michigan and Wisconsin became partners with the Wisconsin Michigan Power Co., in developing 52,000 acres of forests and man-made lakes of the Menominee River watershed to serve outdoor recreational needs of the public.

The program is described as the greatest joint industry-government conservation effort ever undertaken in the state.

Proposed are three state parks. One park will be located at Bad Water Lake at Twin Falls, another at Peavy Falls and the third at Way Dam on the Michigan River. Construction of a state forest camp area on Bad Water Lake, north of Iron Mountain, is the first stage, scheduled for next summer. Development of the other two state parks will follow as public use of the first justifies additional facilities.

The partners will share in the cost of development. The agreement provides that facilities for intensive camping will be provided by the state. The Power Co. will pay for the development of access sites, wilderness camping sites and portages. All land will remain on the local tax rolls.

As Governor Romney said, "Wisconsin Michigan Power Co. should be commended for its efforts in the past in developing public recreation on its property. This company has demonstrated responsible stewardship of the natural resources it manages. As governor, I express the appreciation of the people of Michigan for what you have already done and your plans for the future. We are pleased to be your partner in developing these resources."

This is the first example of a type of cooperative development of recreational facilities that could make a great difference in future of the Upper Peninsula. Recreational specialists who are not in government employment have been saying for years that the nation should develop its recreational facilities in two ways — one by government ownership and the other by private ownership.

Unfortunately the government planners have been able to take over the situation almost entirely and they have proposed ever-increasing government expenditures to acquire lands for the future needs of the public for recreation. This trend continues. With the Upper Peninsula already 40 per cent owned by the federal and state governments the Agriculture and Interior Department recently acquired the Sylvania Tract of 18,000 acres and the Pictured Rocks tract of 67,000 acres.

Without saying that such strategic acquisitions are wrong, it still must be apparent that the final solution to recreational needs cannot be acquisition of all the lands in the U. P. for recreation if the area is to continue to support an industrial economy. Without its industries it would be a much less interesting place for visitors and they happen to be happily compatible with recreational enterprises and even to enhance them. Wood industries, for instance, improve the forests and make them more usable for recreation and help them support larger wildlife populations.

The Wisconsin Michigan Power Co. recreation project in partnership with the States of Michigan and Wisconsin is an example of enlightened industry and enlightened government cooperating for the public good. The company will keep its flowage lands for its hydroelectric system under this agreement, but it will not put them in an industrial land bank which denies them to the public as playgrounds.

They will continue to pay taxes and the people who use them to fish and picnic, to hunt and hike won't be taxed to buy them and staff them with public rangers and garbage men. This is having your cake and eating it and we hope there'll be more of it. A victory of the same sort was scored in the Pictured Rocks National Lakeshore project, where the original plans called for taking away an industrial forest from its owners, so that the pansy pickers wouldn't meet any lumberjacks. The plan was amended to create a buffer zone in which logging will be permitted.

The facts about the population explosion seem not to have trickled down to Washington yet, warning that there'll be great pressures on the land and that it had better be used for multiple purposes wherever possible, for both recreation and forestry, for instance. Happily this word is heard in Lansing and we have this auspicious new compact between Wisconsin Michigan Power Co. and the States of Michigan and Wisconsin.

Hart Pleased By Truth Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill intended to protect shoppers against unfair or deceptive methods of packaging and labeling consumer goods has cleared Congress after five years of effort.

But the two senators most responsible for its passage, Sens. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., and Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., do not see eye to eye on it.

Congressional action was completed Wednesday with Senate acceptance of the version the House insisted on.

Magnuson, chairman of the Senate Commerce Committee, said he agreed to the House version with great reluctance.

Public School Aid Is Moral Duty: Catholics Told

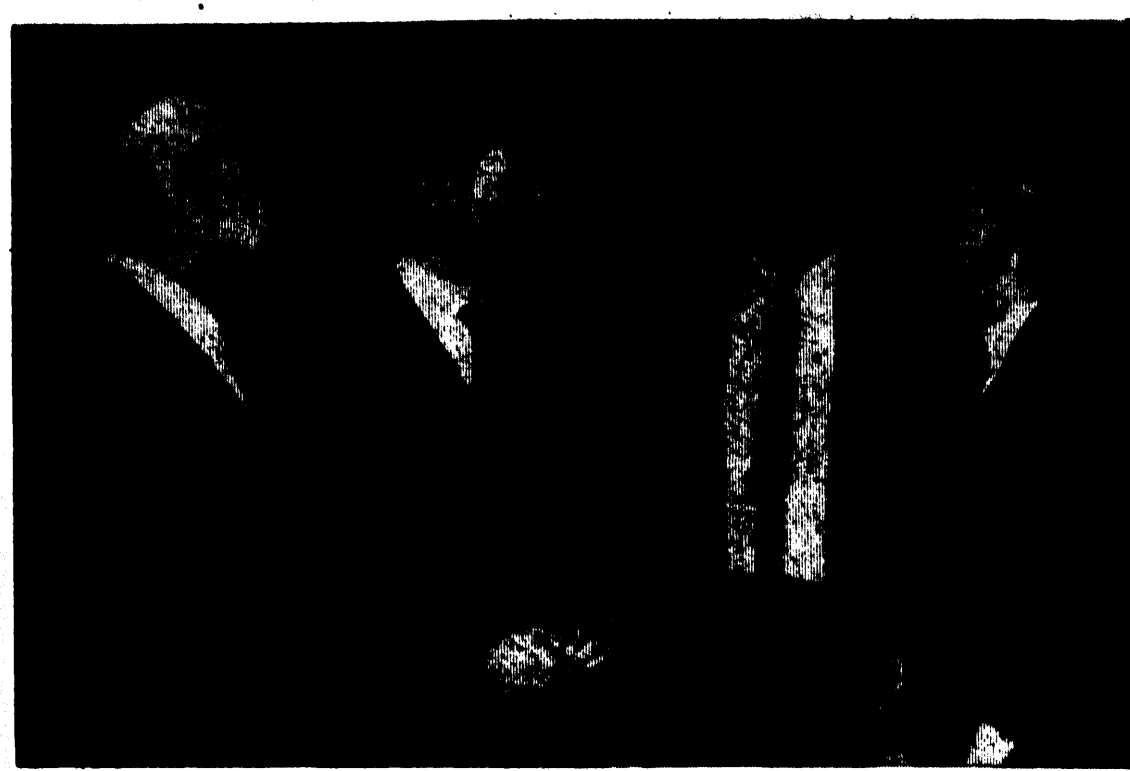

LANSING (AP) — Michigan Catholics have been told they have a moral duty to aid public schools.

In a statement issued by its board of directors, the Michigan Catholic Conference said the responsibility for quality education "brings with it the duty to do everything necessary to achieve it."

The churchmen added: "This means not only a show of interest and concern, but financial support as well. 'This duty rests upon all citizens. Parents who exercise their civil rights to send children to parochial schools are not freed from the obligation of the entire citizenry to support public education.'"

The statement did not specifically endorse the Detroit public school millage proposal in the November election, but it said Catholic voters should decide the issue as a matter of conscience and in a spirit of sacrifice.

The conference is the top policy-making body of the church in Michigan.

Population Curb Called Imperative

Mankind faces an obligation that it has never had before; one that has always before been left to the gods or fate, the young speaker told an audience of a hundred in William Bonifas Auditorium Wednesday night at a public lecture sponsored by Bay de Noc Community College.

This is the last generation, he said, which can act on the problem. Beyond this generation it will be beyond control and will solve itself by war or dictatorship.

The problem is world population control and the speaker was Dr. Leroy G. Augenstein, research scientist at Michigan State University who is one of the two Republican nominees for the State Board of Education in the Nov. 8 election. His talk was non-political.

The speaker's review of the moral problem facing the world in "playing God" and controlling population grew out of his talk on prevention of birth defects.

To put the knowledge that science has gathered on birth defects to use requires "playing God" in the changing of genes that pass on defects to the unborn or preventing parents whose children will be defective from marrying, as Denmark has done.

Marriage Control
Here, said Dr. Augenstein, we require that persons who wish a marriage license be tested to make sure they don't have syphilis. But syphilis can be treated with antibiotics and defective children cannot and there is no bar to marriage of persons who will beget defective children.

One per cent of children born (about 50,000 a year) are so defective that they have no brainpower; one per cent can't compete, four per cent are deviates from normal mind capacity, a total of 6 per cent, or one in 17 births, said the speaker.

"If the laboratory can manipulate a child before conception we are going to play God," said Dr. Augenstein. "That is not the question. The question is whether we are going to play God humbly and prayerfully and not like Hitler. My view is to get the information out to the people."

"The average increase in population is 2 per cent a year. This will double the world's population, from 3 billion to 7 billion by the year 2000 if it goes on as now. In 500 or 600 years, at this rate of increase, there would be a person for every square yard of earth. We do something about this 2 per cent or this result."

Population Explosion
"There are four ways to answer population control, by starvation — Egypt increased its food potential 22 per cent by building the Aswan dam but its population increased 31 per cent while it was building the dam — pestilence and war. Experts believe that war can be expected if world population goes much beyond 10 billion. And even if you kill half the world's population at that figure it will be back to full strength in 35 years."

"The fourth way is rational control; to increase the death rate to balance the birth rate or to decrease the birth rate. Fairly soon we have got to say 'This child can't be conceived if it can't have a fruitful life.' This is playing God, but we do it all the time with surgery, with pesticides, someone played God or we wouldn't be here tonight."

"The fuse is lit and public officials should be discussing these things. When the discussion starts we should be sure that extremists don't take over. The youngsters now in high school and college are going to

Adventist Leader, Ann Lander, Nearly 70, Tells Retirement Plans

LANSING (AP)—Elder N. C. Wilson, who has been a church leader in areas ranging from Indonesia to the American Plains, has announced he is retiring as president of the Michigan Conference of Seventh-Day Adventists.

Wilson, nearly 70, will become pastor of an Adventist church in Healdsburg, Calif., returning to the area where he started his ministry in 1919.

The "problem of passing years" prompted his decision. Wilson wrote to ministers of the Michigan Conference, which he had headed seven years.

Wilson has headed four different church divisions — Australia, North America, South Africa and Southern Asia.

A conference committee to select a new conference president will meet in Lansing early next month.

Three Is Always A Honeymoon Crowd

Dear Ann Landers: My husband and I have been married for 28 years. Although he has never pointed a knife or a gun at me (or anyone else) I live in fear that one day he will kill me and the children. How?

With the family car. My husband is a thoughtful, kind, generous man. He is considered stable and well-balanced by those who work for and with him. Yet he behaves like a mad man when he is in the driver's seat of his automobile.

He becomes furious when another driver fails to give him the right of way. He retaliates by speeding, leaning on the horn and swearing. He has no patience for older drivers who go more slowly than he thinks they should. I have seen some serious accidents caused by a simple lack of courtesy. I think it miraculous that my husband has escaped — so far.

This is more than a "safety problem." It is a marital problem. My husband's driving has ruined many an evening for me and caused many an argument between us. Will you please print this letter and a comment or two? I'm sure I'm not alone.—MRS. SHOOKUP

Dear Mrs.: You bet you're not alone. If all the wives who have this problem were lined up, they would reach from the emergency ward of any Los Angeles hospital to the morgue in Manhattan.

Nearly half of my readers are men. To them I say: If you see yourself in that letter, mend your ways. Boys, before you become a suicide or a murderer—or both.

Dear Ann Landers: I am a 13-year-old girl with a great big problem. My dad and mother were divorced three years ago. Neither one wanted me or my brother so we went to live with grandma. Two years ago grandma had a stroke so mom had to take me. My brother went to live with dad.

Last year mom remarried. She told me I could go along on the honeymoon if I wanted to. I had never been to Las Vegas so I said I'd like to go. I had a rotten time because they kept leaving me in movies while they gambled.

Now dad is getting married again and he says I can go along on their honeymoon. They are going to Yellowstone Park and I've never been there either. I had such a lousy time on my mother's honeymoon that I'm afraid to take another chance. What is your advice?

—GO OR NOT
Dear Or Not: Pass up the trip. You'll enjoy Yellowstone Park more on YOUR honeymoon.

Dear Ann Landers: The family across the street worries me. Both parents work. They leave their children from morning till night with anybody who has two arms and two legs.

These people have had a procession of sitters that are plain trash. The one they have now should have a sifter sit with HER. She goes around the neighborhood all day, visiting and eating, while the children run loose.

When they fall and hurt themselves the neighbors put the bandages on. The house is always locked so the kids come over here to use the bathroom.

What can I do to help these young ones? Should I talk to the parents?—C. N.

Dear C. N.: If the parents were decent they wouldn't need talking to. Anything you say would be considered interference. Just continue to bind up the wounds and keep your bathroom available.

Chief of police John J. Toian announced that he opened a crusade against all dealers who sell cigarettes to children and against pool hall owners who tolerate boys of school age in their places of business.

What heart would you play from dummy at trick one? This is somewhat of a trick question because most people will go into a long study about the relative merits of the deuce and the eight. Your plan will be to get East to play the king so that your queen will become a trick but if East is silly enough to rise with the king instead of some intermediate card your choice of eight or deuce will be meaningless.

When Don Kraus of Los Angeles played this hand in a California tournament he called for the queen from dummy. East covered with the king and Don won with his singleton ace. Then he played ace and five of trumps.

A—Bid five hearts. Spades has been established as your suit so partner will know that you are showing the ace of hearts.

You bid five hearts and your partner jumps to six spades. What do you do now?

WITH COMMUNITY AGREEMENT this could be the look of Escanaba's central business district by 1985, complete with a large shopping plaza, more free off-street parking, and the opening of the downtown district toward the north side of Sand Point. There along the shore an area for a park, apartments, or college campus is envisaged by planners.

Proposed Central Business District Plan

By CLINT DUNATHAN

Planning programs have their beginnings in proposals that are subject to amendment and open to change and compromise.

The Central Business District Plan for Escanaba is no exception.

The proposal that has been placed before the City Council and the Planning Commission by consultants Harland, Bartholomew & Associates for the redevelopment of the city's downtown business section is based on factual studies. Preliminary reports and recommendations are being prepared.

But the final decisions will be made with the agreement of the people of Escanaba and their representatives, and after public hearings and discussions.

The program of planning has been thoughtful and (to some observers) even slow.

The City Council began discussing the need for a comprehensive city plan back in 1963. They and the Planning Commission want to establish some guidelines that will help Escanaba develop to its full potential along all fronts — residential, industrial, commercial, light industrial, recreational.

Harland, Bartholomew & Associates of St. Louis, one of the most respected firms of planning consultants in the nation, was hired by the city in January of this year.

Downtown Priority
They began work on a comprehensive city plan. The City Council, at the request of downtown merchants, asked the planners to give priority to a Central Business District plan.

After preliminary surveys and studies, Harland, Bartholomew & Associates recommended that the city acquire two additional off-street parking lots. The participation of the retail property owners in the downtown area was recommended in financing the acquisition.

Appraisers hired by the city are now completing their work and will soon report to the Council. The appraisers are not connected with the planning firm.

The contract with Harland, Bartholomew & Associates is for 18 months, their work is approximately 60 per cent completed, and their current contract will expire in July next year.

Land use maps, thoroughfare or street maps, and the central business district plan are ready for the approval of the Planning Commission. Next step is the preparation of a preliminary report incorporating the findings of the firm to date.

Subject To Change
Copies of the report will be available to the interested public as well as to the Council and Planning Commission.

"The report will show what the planners have found and the direction in which they are thinking," said Milton Embs, controller, who until recently was administrative and planning aide.

The public reaction to the proposals is important, for if the public does not approve the proposals will be modified or adjusted.

The Central Business District Plan is a preliminary proposal and means general acceptance of the area to be considered for redevelopment. This too can be changed, both in discussions now and in developments in the future, it was pointed out by City Engineer John Dulek.

Dulek and Howard Smale, administrative assistant to City Manager George Harvey, are working with the Planning Commission and the planning consultants in preparation of the program that will be offered to the public for approval.

Urban Renewal
By resolution the City Council has requested the Upper Peninsula Committee on Area Progress to undertake certain surveys in Escanaba to prepare a Workable Program for Community Improvement, which is a requirement in any application for Urban Renewal, said City Manager Harvey.

Many projects and proposals can be incorporated in the "general neighborhood renewal plan," including a recreation building, the possibility of a swimming pool, further improvement of the water front, additional parking facilities and other public needs.

"The processing toward Urban Renewal starts with the preparation of a Workable Program," said Harvey.

Once the Workable Program is certified by federal authorities, an application for survey and planning is presented, and the Program and planning application are prepared concurrently.

"From there on Urban Renewal proceeds in three stages," the city manager explained. "Upon acceptance of the survey and planning application, funds are earmarked for the project. Upon the receipt of more detailed plans, funds are provided to proceed with the planning. Then we arrive at the third and final stage of execution when the loan and grant funds are provided."

Matter Of Money
Why the interest in ultimately attaining approval for an Urban Renewal Program? Primarily it's a matter of money. Under Urban Renewal the federal funds contribution is 75 per cent or more of the entire program — including everything from planning costs to purchase of off-street parking space.

But there will be a great flow of discussion before any bridges are crossed.

These discussions will go on within the Planning Commission, the City Council, a Citizens Advisory Committee that has yet to be named — and the public in general.

The Citizens Advisory Committee will be appointed by the Council to represent a cross-section of the community and will have a membership of 40 to 50 persons. It is required as part of the Workable Program and will be named within the next month.

How fast will the whole program move? Thompson Dyke, Harland, Bartholomew & Associates representative who is guiding the Escanaba planning project, says that "within five years we should see some visible progress."

Minisarong Flap May Lead To Ban

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — The minisarong, devised by Malaysian beauty contest operators to get around a Moslem ban on bathing suits, is causing such a flap that the government may ban it.

The sarong kebaya is the national female costume for Malay women. It does a lot for the female form from the waist up, but it also reaches to the ground.

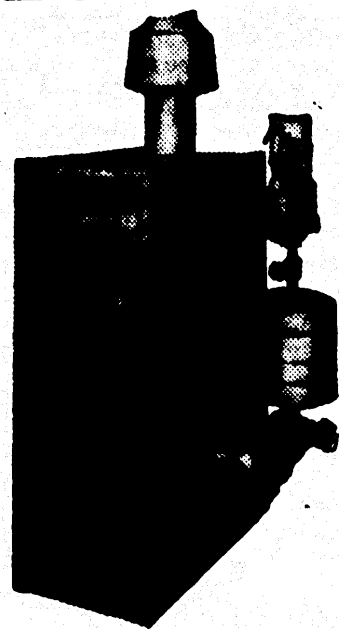

When the Miss Malaysia contest came up last Friday, the entrepreneurs hatched the minisarong, a garment that did as much for the bosom as the sarong kebaya does but also bared the legs.

Malaya being a Moslem nation officially, a great consternation resulted at the parade of flesh.

One official, Shuib Bin Haji Ahmad, said: "Moslem law states that women must be covered from their feet to their hands. Even their faces must be covered with veils."

"This minisarong is far from that."

ESCANABA MUNICIPAL ELECTRIC UTILITY

PLEASING COMBINATION: The dormer is the tip-off that this traditional home has living space upstairs, but architect Samuel Paul has placed the extra rooms at the back of the house to preserve the long, low look for those who prefer a ranch-like appearance.

Has Living Space Upstairs

By ANDY LANG

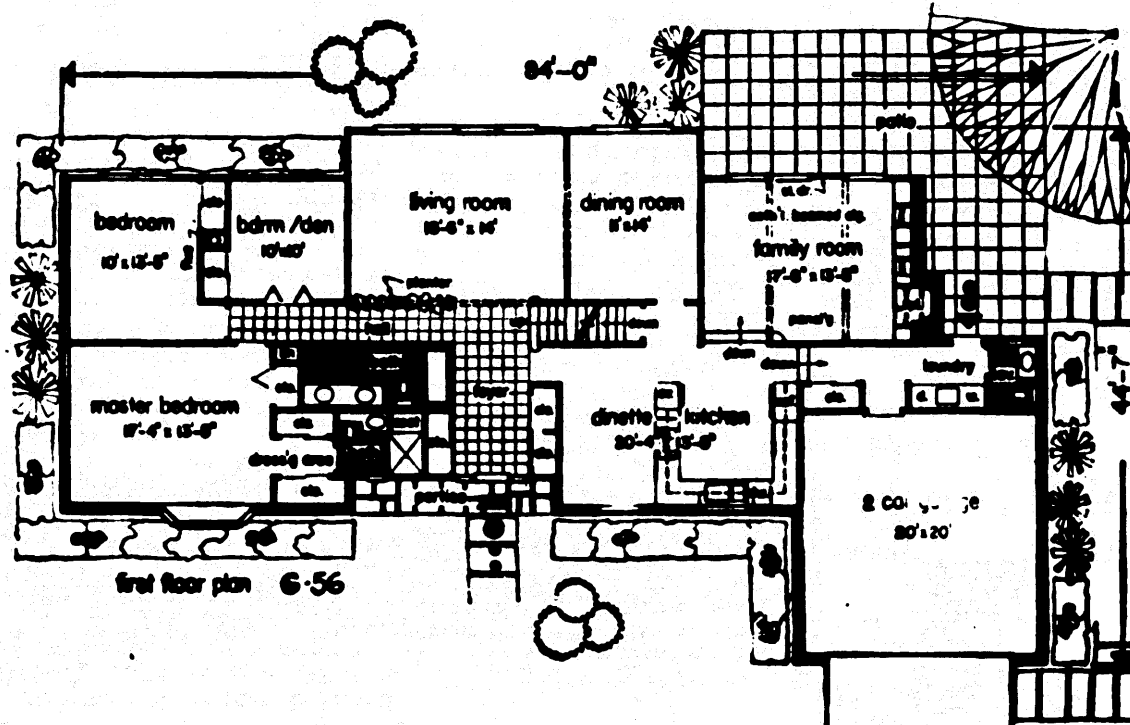

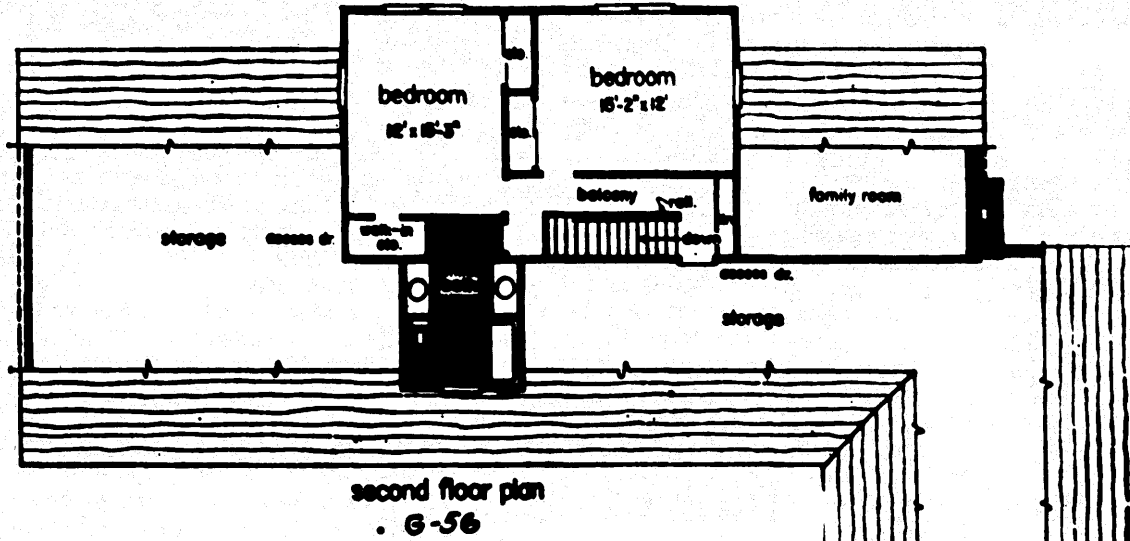

This house was designed for those who like the extra living space of a one and a-half story residence, but who also have an affection for the outward appearance of a ranch.

Architect Samuel Paul has turned out a house that can accommodate a family of almost any size—with three, four or five bedrooms—yet its exterior has a long, low exterior front resembling a ranch. At the same time, a tasteful blend of stone and wood exudes a charm and warmth expressive of the Colonial style.

Paul has accomplished all this by a design which places the upper two bedrooms and bath over the back part of the house, thus avoiding a too-vertical look at the front. Since there are three bedrooms on the first floor, sufficient for many families, the upstairs need not be completed until family expansion makes it necessary.

The control center is around the kitchen, where all the informal activities take place. This area includes a large cathedral-type family room, kitchen, dinette, laundry, two-car garage and a lavatory strategically located so that children coming in from the outside do not have to go through the more formal part of the house. The sunken family room, two steps down from the kitchen, features a large glass wall with sliding doors which open onto a huge patio, and a fireplace with raised hearth and a complete brick wall.

The kitchen is arranged in a U-shape, with the sink placed underneath the front window, from which anyone walking up to the front door can be seen. A built-in oven, countertop range, large refrigerator, dishwasher, and abundance of counter space and floor and wall cabinets, comprise the other elements in the kitchen. In the laundry, space is provided for a washing machine, dryer and sink.

FLOOR PLANS: Everything necessary for comfortable living is on the first floor, with special emphasis on caring for the needs of children, but the plans include two bedrooms and an extra bath upstairs for large families which need extra space.

A highly desirable feature of Design G-56 is the large number of closets and abundance of storage space. There are three good-sized closets off the main entrance foyer. The master bedroom has a dressing room with two closets, plus a third closet outside the dressing area. Very convenient, also, is the large closet at the service entrance. On the second floor, there is effective storage space in that portion underneath the roof. And a full cellar, with access from a stair off the kitchen, makes available a tremendous amount of space which also can be used for storage.

Basically, the arrangement of the rooms is around a spacious central foyer, at the end of which is the living room. A separate dining room adjoins the living room, with a large opening between the two. Both rooms look out on the rear. An attractive planter is between the living room and the foyer hall.

In the bedroom wing, a compartmentalized bath is featured. In one portion, a double vanity is located; in the other, a built-in bathtub and water closet. The master bedroom, which has its dressing room and separate bath, has a bay window, pleasing to the eye from both inside and outside. The third bedroom can be double as a den if that suits the needs of the family.

FAMILY ROOM: Sunken two steps below the kitchen, this family room, with its fireplace set in a full brick wall and sliding glass doors leading to the patio, is an ideal place for relaxing.

G-56 STATISTICS

Design G-56 has a living room, dining room, kitchen-dinette, family room, laundry, foyer and three bedrooms on the first floor, with a total habitable area of 2006 square feet. There are two bedrooms and a bath on the second floor, adding 873 square feet. This floor can be finished when the house is built or at a later date. Over-all dimensions, including a two-car garage, are 84' by 44' 7".

Campaign Windup Nov. 1

Caravan To Escort Romney

Gov. George Romney has changed plans for his Action Team blitz visit to Escanaba on Tuesday, Nov. 1, says Thomas Quinn, of the Romney Volunteers working on plans for the half-hour program at Escanaba Airport. It will be the U.P. windup for state Republican candidates before the Nov. 8 election.

Governor Romney and his team were originally scheduled to fly into Escanaba Airport from Iron Mountain on Nov. 1 and to fly on to Menominee after the program there. The new schedule calls for him to come to Escanaba from Iron Mountain by bus, with a caravan escort from Iron Mountain to Powers-Spalding.

He and his party will be greeted there by a caravan from the Escanaba-Gladstone area and escorted to Escanaba Airport, said Quinn. The Governor's bus is due to leave Powers-Spalding at 5 p. m. and arrive at Escanaba Airport at 6:30.

The program there will last a half-hour and will present

Governor Romney, U. S. Senator Robert Griffin, State Attorney General Nominee Lawrence Lindemer, Secretary of State Nominee George Washington; Congress Nominee Philip Ruppe, State Senator Thomas Schweigert and State Representative Nominee Charles Varnum, 10th District.

Quinn said that persons who wish to join the caravan to Escanaba should be at Pinecrest Medicare Facility at Powers-Spalding and then the caravan will move to Bark River for its first stop at Johnson's Gas Station.

National news media including Time and Newsweek magazines will have representatives with the Governor's party, and the Detroit and U.P. newspapers will also be represented. From Bark River the caravan will go to the Escanaba Airport, for its only Escanaba stop.

College Degree Police Recruits

ANN ARBOR (AP) — A proposal requiring a college degree for police recruits was put to the Ann Arbor City Commission today.

The four-point plan, the work of Police Chief Walter Krasny and Joseph A. Frisinger, city personnel director, was presented to City Administrator Guy C. Larcom Jr.

The next regular city commission meeting is set for Monday.

Krasny and Frisinger said the college degree would be hinged to a 10 per cent salary increase for patrolmen. Under the plan, they said, any officer now on the force would be able to seek a college degree, or graduate degree at city expense.

The plan also called for a police administration program to be set up at Washtenaw Community College, a two-year school which opened its doors this fall.

If the plan is approved, Ann Arbor, would become the first city in the nation to require a college degree of its policemen, Frisinger said.

Chrysler Brass Changes Made

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler Corp. Thursday named Philip M. Buckminster to the newly created post of vice president-corporate staff amidst speculation he would succeed Lynn A. Townsend as Chrysler president by the end of the year.

A reshuffling of Chrysler's high command had been anticipated since board chairman George A. Love is due to retire from that post Dec. 31. He will remain on the executive committee.

Love said in a recent interview with the Associated Press that he thought the dual jobs of president and chairman would be too much for one man to handle, even though Chrysler had seen the jobs concentrated in one pair of hands several times in its history.

Health Staff Pensions Urged

Delta Menominee Health Department Board moved Wednesday in a meeting at the Delta County Building to provide retirement benefits for workers of the health department. There are about a dozen employees and it would cost the county an estimated $3,000 a year to pay its share of a retirement plan to which the employees would also contribute 3 to 5 per cent of their pay.

Delta County has its other county employees under a pension system and Menominee County's road commission employees have a pension plan. The health board was unanimous in support of provision of a pension for health workers. Dr. Mary Cretens, director of the department, has been urging one for several years.

Supervisor Myron Ross, Menominee, moved that the Mich-

Region 1-D maintains branch offices in Muskegon, Benton Harbor, Kalamazoo, Saginaw, Traverse City, and Iron Mountain.

Bark River Teacher Serves Iranian School

Dennis Fay

Dennis Fay, who taught English and French at Bark River-Harris last year, recently arrived at his Peace Corps post in Iran. Fay is at Esferyn in northeast Iran where he will teach English for 21 months. Esferyn is in a mountainous, cool and dry area.

Fay trained for his service in Iran at the University of Texas in Austin in the summer. (He was on the university campus at the time of the Aug. 1 sniper shootings, but was unharmed.) The training included a week's stay in Mexico City where the Iran Peace Corps volunteers taught in Mexican schools to gain experience in handling problems they might face in Iran. The training also included intensive language studies in Farsi, or Persian.

At Bark River-Harris, Fay coached debate and forensic groups, and served as advisor to the school newspaper. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Fay of Alpena. He graduated from Hillsdale College in 1965 with a B.A. degree.

Fay's English classes in Iran range from 8 to 80 students in size, made up mostly of 7th and 8th graders. His teaching, about 25 hours per week, will be done in Esferyn's girls' school as well as the boys' school.

Rockefeller Has Straw Poll Lead

NEW YORK (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller is leading by a narrow margin in his bid for a third term, according to the first tabulations in the New York Daily News straw poll.

With 2,000 votes counted, the News poll gave Rockefeller 39.7 per cent, Democrat Frank D. O'Connor 38.9, Liberal Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. 14.1 and Conservative Paul Adams 7.3.

On the basis of the tabulations, the News said, the 1968 election "shapes up as a cliff-hanger."

Frank Bourke

Roy A. Jensen

Bourke, Jensen Named To Board

The Escanaba City Council named two representatives to the Delta County Board of Supervisors to fill vacancies at its meeting Thursday night in the City Hall.

They are: Frank Bourke, manager of area development, Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. and former controller for the City of Escanaba. He resides at 519 S. 8th St.

Roy A. Jensen, Lake Shore Road, Escanaba, is the proprietor of Jensen & Jensen Enterprises, a former Delta representative in the Michigan Legislature, and is secretary of the Michigan Fish Producers.

Their appointment fills vacancies caused by the resignation of L. J. Jacobs, member of the Board of Supervisors for many years; and by the naming of Wesley Hansen, Escanaba supervisor to the County Road Commission by the Board of Supervisors at its recent session.

The City Council last night made the appointments with expressions of regret at the retirement of Jacobs and Hansen and commended them for their public service. They were members also of the Escanaba Board of Review.

The Council in other business accepted the low bid of the Straits Industrial Sales, Sault Ste. Marie, to supply the city with a bulldozer at a cost of $10,500. The acceptance is subject to the approval of City Manager George Harvey.

Adopted a resolution congratulating the Escanaba Area Public Schools on 100 years of progress.

Avenue Hushed For Funerals

NEW YORK (AP) — A rare solemnity hushed Fifth Avenue today as 10 black-draped fire trucks carried the bodies of 10 dead firemen to a final tribute reserved for those men who give their lives in the line of duty.

Twelve firemen perished last Monday night when the floor of a blazing building collapsed, burying them.

The grim procession today bore the bodies before at least 15,000 firemen and police from across the United States and Canada and past many New Yorkers who paused to pay silent tribute.

With muffled bells tolling the engines rolled to St. Patrick's Cathedral and to St. Thomas Episcopal Church where the families of the fallen men waited. The men were to be buried with full departmental honors.

Mayor John V. Lindsay called this "the saddest day since I've been mayor. The city doffs its hat with heavy heart." He marched with New York Fire Commissioner Robert O. Lowery in the grim procession.

Behind them came an honor guard of firemen, a phalanx of muffled drums and then the fire engines.

State Didn't Need Hart's Truth Bill

CADILLAC (AP) — Sen. Philip Hart's truth in packaging bill will have little effect in Michigan, Jack Hartzell, general supervisor of the State Agriculture Department's food inspection division, said Thursday.

The bill, sponsored by Hart, a Michigan Democrat, has passed the House and Senate and awaits President Johnson's signature to become law.

"We have sufficient laws on the state level to protect the consumer," Hartzell said. "We didn't need this law at all."

He contends the bill conflicts, in some areas, with state laws. For example, he said, one of the provisions of Hart's bill requires that weight be printed in ounces if the product is under four pounds. State law requires that any net content must be printed in the largest whole unit, he said.

Afro-Asian Bloc Makes Bid For U.S. Support

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Fearful of losing U.S. support, 34 Asian-African nations held up action today on a resolution calling for the U.N. to take over South Africa's mandate over South-West Africa at once.

The General Assembly was to have voted today on the resolution, but the sponsors asked for a delay, reportedly because the United States objected to the strong wording of the proposal.

The resolution would have the United Nations take over the old League of Nations mandate immediately and set up a U.N. administering authority to prepare the territory for independence.

It also would call on the Security Council to enforce the assembly's decisions by mandatory sanctions if necessary.

U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg and Hans Tabor, chief delegate of Denmark, have been consulting with Ambassador F.S. Arkhurst of Ghana, representing the sponsors, in an attempt to modify the resolution.

The United States and other Western nations want the Asian-Africans to agree to the naming of a committee to study how the territory should be administered.

There were reports Thursday night that the Africans had agreed to drop the idea of an immediate takeover but that the final wording was still under discussion.

Hope Planning Induces Growth And Prosperity

The objective of the Escanaba City Council in sponsoring planning studies and programs is to "induce growth and prosperity," the Council said in a policy statement adopted Thursday night.

The Council hammered out the answers to a number of problems relating to planning and the orderly development of the community at its long session last night—and for the benefit of federal agencies whose approval is needed on certain aspects of the work, adopted a statement of policy on the objectives of planning.

Tracing the historic development of the city's first 103 years, the statement continues: "Presently a Comprehensive Plan is being prepared by Harland Bartholomew & Associates of Chicago. The purpose of this plan is to assist and recommend specific changes designed to update our community facilities and stimulate progressive thought."

"Of present importance is the modernization and updating of our downtown area, the reevaluation of our recreational areas and facilities, the modernization of our airport, full utilization of our natural resources, plus recruitment of industrial expansion and development."

Browns Face Tough Pro Football Task Of Stopping Hayes

By The Associated Press
If the St. Louis Cardinals worked the next-to-impossible on Bob Hayes last Sunday, the Cleveland Browns may have to make it the impossible this Sunday if they hope to remain in contention in the National Football League's Eastern Conference.

Tough Sledding For Top Elevens In State Action

hurried the quarterback saved me a couple of times." Now it's the Browns' turn to try and stop Hayes, who leads the NFL with seven touchdown passes caught.

The Browns already have lost two of their five games while Dallas is 4-0-1 and St. Louis, which plays Washington is 5-0-1. Another loss could be damaging to the Browns, who are trying to win the title this year without Jimmy Brown.

This is the first meeting between the teams, but Cleveland played St. Louis last month and lost 24-28.

The Cowboys sport a couple of awesome statistics going into Sunday's game. They lead the league in total offense, averaging 434.6 yards a game, and in pass offense with a 278.2 average.

Other games have Illinois State at Central Michigan, Ferris at Eastern Michigan, Marquette State at Michigan Tech, Western Reserve at Wayne State, Northern Illinois at Hillsdale, Lincoln at Northwest and Northern Michigan at Dayton.

Central Michigan upset Hillsdale 28-8 last weekend and has a chance for a 500 season. Saturday's contest with Illinois State is the first IIAAC game for the Chippies.

"Our win over Hillsdale was a big one for us," said Coach Bill Kelly. "It showed the boys that we could win, and it might give us the push we need for the rest of the season."

Around Kalamazoo, all eyes are on Western's Bob Rowe, a 245-pound defensive tackle from Flushing. Coach Bill Doolittle calls Rowe "The greatest player we've had here in a long time."

He faces Toledo Saturday in a Mid-American Conference game.

O'Neil Ponders Question

Will Two-Week Rest Help Or Hurt Crusader Squad?

Will the two-week layoff help or hurt the Holy Name Crusaders?

Coach Tom O'Neil pondered that question today on the eve of Holy Name's Little Brown Jug battle against Munising here Saturday.

"It could be a great help to us in one sense, and then it could hurt us because of the lack of combat for so long a time," the first year mentor stated.

"One thing I do know," he added, "is that the long rest has healed our physical injuries. We'll have Jack Hughes available for duty and that will be a big help."

Hughes is a rugged defensive ball player who makes up for his lack of beef (5-10 and 150 pounds) with a fierce determination.

One of O'Neil's major worries is a renewal of an outbreak of boils among his Crusaders. The team has been bothered by the ailment most of the season and some players have been hit harder than ever in recent days.

"This is a big game for Holy Name, of course, with the Little Brown Jug up for grabs and we are determined to win it back Saturday," O'Neil observed.

Another factor that will make the game more attractive to Holy Name fans is the return of Bill Earle as Munising mentor. Earle was a highly successful coach at Holy Name before moving to Munising two years ago. He immediately guided the Mustangs to the Great Lakes Conference championship last fall.

This year the Mustangs were out of the starting gate with a rush, winning three straight games against Newberry, Marquette and Manistique. Since then they have dropped three of four starts for an overall 4-3 record. Munising bowed to Sault Ste. Marie, 40-12, last week.

Fall Fishing Bets Listed

October is generally an ideal month for fishing all species as the fish go into shoals (shallows) to feed heavily before winter.

Strong winds and heavy rains brought fishing to a standstill especially on large, open waters. Rainbow streams, especially along Lake Superior are high and roily.

Yellow perch are in the lime-light at the moment, biting good in most lakes where they are found. A few hot spots in the district, states the Conservation Department, are Lake George, Potagannissing Bay, Upper St. Mary's River, Waiska Bay, Tahquamenon Bay, Hulbert Lake, Big Manistique Lake. Good possibilities are Les Cheneaux channels, Brevoort, Millescoquins, Milakokkia lakes, Bass, Perch and Muskallonge Lake, Indian and McDonald lakes.

For walleye, the department lists Waiska Bay, Big Manistique Lake, as possibilities, Tahquamenon River, St. Mary's River and Indian Lake.

Good reports for northern pike were received from Lake George, Upper St. Mary's, Waiska Bay, Big Manistique Lake. Rated good possibilities are Brevoort, Millescoquins, Milakokkia and Whitefish, Indian, McDonald and Gulliver lakes and the Manistique River.

Smallmouth bass in the 2 to 6-pound class have been caught in Milakokkia Lake.

The cold water fishing report shows good rainbow catches in the 2 to 3-pound class in the Carp River between U.S. 2 and the mouth. No major run has yet developed in Lake Superior streams.

When wind conditions are right for trolling, good catches of steelhead in the 2 to 10-pound class are made in Lake Superior off the mouth of the Big Two Hearted River. The U-20 Flatfish is the most popular lure. Steelhead are also being taken by trolling in East and West bays at the mouth of the Sucker River, near Grand Marais. The St. Mary's River Rapids at the Soo should be a good area for rainbows also.

Fishermen are "missing a bet" not trying for rainbows in the numerous inland lakes in the district, the department says. Some good possibilities would be Highbanks Lake, Tank, Bass and Camp 8 and Bullhead lakes, Bear (19) Lake, Dodge-Island and Clear lakes.

East and West bays and the mouth of the Two-Hearted are yielding menomies. Some are also being taken in deeper holes in the lower portion of the Big Two Hearted.

Most fall color has left the woods due to heavy rains and strong variable winds. Splashes of yellow are in poplar stands and a few on beech. The larch (tamarack) are changing color from light green to yellow before dropping their needles, adding a dash of beauty to the dark swamps.

Living Cost Is Up; Food Down

WASHINGTON (AP) — Living costs jumped by three-tenths of one per cent during September despite the first drop in food prices in four months, the Labor Department reported today.

Higher prices for women's and girls' clothing — which increased about twice as much as normal during September — were primarily responsible for the rise in living costs. Housing and medical charges also were up, the Bureau of Labor Statistics said.

The increase brought the consumer price index to a record 114.1 per cent of its 1957-59 base.

This meant that consumers spent $11.41 in September to purchase the items which cost $10 in the 1957-59 base period.

The September index was 3.5 per cent above a year ago.

The two-tenths of one per cent drop in food prices stemmed mainly from a 7.5 per cent decline in the price of fresh fruits and vegetables since August, the bureau said.

Commissioner Arthur Ross told a news conference he expected consumer prices next year to show less of an advance than they did during 1966.

The September increase will mean cost of living wage increases for about 78,000 workers whose labor contracts are tied to the consumer price index. For about 58,000, mostly aircraft workers, the increase will be three cents an hour based on changes in the index since June.

Other workers will receive increases ranging from one to eight cents an hour.

Fumes Overcome 58 Workers In Detroit Plant

DETROIT (AP) — Investigators said a combination of fumes from a heavy glue and fork lift truck exhausts apparently overcame 58 workers Thursday at a Detroit auto accessories plant.

The employees, 52 women and six men, were treated at nearby hospitals in northwest Detroit. None suffered serious effects, officials said.

Workers were evacuated from Plasta-Fibers Industries before noon when 12 women fainted after inhaling the fumes.

"Everybody started to complain of headaches," said one employee, Mrs. Edna Beasars, 32, of suburban Warren. "Some said they smelled something funny. I had a headache, felt sick to my stomach. Then the girls started keeling over, one by one."

Dr. E. L. Anthony Dies At Lansing

LANSING (AP) — Dr. Ernest Lee Anthony, dean emeritus of Michigan State University's College of Agriculture and an internationally known authority on dairy science, died Wednesday night in a Lansing hospital. He was 78.

A native of Nebraska, Anthony began his teaching at Penn State University in 1912 and moved to West Virginia University in 1918. He came to MSU in 1928 and was promoted in 1933 to dean of agriculture, a post he held until his retirement in 1953.

He was coauthor of two books on dairy cattle and milk production.

Hospital Group Plans Dinner

The Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital Auxiliary will hold its annual meeting Monday, Oct. 24 in the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints. Election of officers is included in business following the dinner.

A report on the current member canvass in progress will be made. Results have been encouraging, Mrs. E. J. Thompson, president said. Memberships are still being accepted.

The Auxiliary serves the hospital in two ways, through volunteer services and purchase of equipment. It has just completed a project to provide draperies in all rooms in the hospital.

Larceny By Trick

State Police are investigating a report of larceny by trick at the Tennyson gas station at Blaney Junction Wednesday at 4:15 p.m. Officers said a man in a tan car with blue top stopped and purchased $2 of gasoline, giving a $10 bill. When the operator presented $8 change he asked if he had given a $10. He then gave $10 in change for the $10 bill. Then he asked and received a $20 bill for the $10 which the operator held and the $10 in his hand. The car had Alberta license plate 2391.

Hospital

Admitted to Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital were Diane Wilcox, Edward Tatro, James Marks, Grace Clement, Eleanor DeSautel, Richard Hakes and Gary Lester.

Discharged were Elaine Hastings, Mary Endress and Ellen Flodin.
